BOVRIL AT THE FRONT.

Boyril has played such a conspicuous part in South Africa that it forms no inconsiderable feature of the story. The 'Lancet' has had frequent references to Boyril in the reports of the officers of the Royal Army Medical Corps. Nearly every newspaper correspondent has had to refer to Bovril to make his story complete. Splendid Collection of the Latest London Rudyard Kipling and Laden-Powell have written their Bovril wories. Over 500 British hospitals and smilar public institutions use and prescribe Bovril, not > beef tea, but Bovril. The reason is not far to seek. Bovril is ncurnisher as well as a stimulant. contains the albumen and fibrine, the sustaining properties of the beef. It is this fact, together with its absolute purity, that commends Boyril to physcians and scientists, and proves in practice what it demonstrates in analysis.

THE BALDWIN ARCTIC EXPEDITION.

A Little Heat in a Cold Latitude.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 2.

Since the return from the Arctic of America, various reports have been in circulation as to the dissensions on board during the voyage of exploration. The American members of the Expedition say that they are bound by contract to preserve silence; but to-day. the Tidningen, a leading daily paper of Stockholm, published a long interview with Captain Dreilick, a Swede, who sailed on board the America. He says that differences arose at the very outset between Mr Baldwin and Captain Johansson, who, at Dundee, before the vessel started, disagreed regarding the, fitness of the engineer. When Tromsee was reached, on the voyage out, Mr Baldwin proposed that the mate should. take command, and the offer was repeated at Vardoe and Archangelsk, but declined. Captain Dreilick thinks that Captain Johansson overworked the crew, but Mr. Baldwin abstained from interference. On the day that the America was surrounded by ice the captain refused to anchor, saying that, according to the ice-pilot's directions, YACHT, 25 feet long, 71 feet beam, it would be dangerous, .Mr Baldwin A 51 feet depth, with sail, atc., thereupon said to him, You are not complete. On View at AH KING, Boat- the master, you are, only the sailingmaster.' A heated altercation ensued. which ended in Captain Johansson's producing papers, signed by the Consul in Dundee, in which he was designated as master. There was great trouble afterwards when Captain Johansson wanted the explosives to be removed from under-Mr. Daldwin vehemently opposed this but eventually the explosives were removed safely. The climax was reached on the night of a terrific storm. The anchor dragged, and the captain offered Mr Baldwin the choice between losing the anchor or the bowsprit. The answer was "Bosh," and orders were given to go astern. The chain broke when the engines were reversed. On March 29 the captain was discharged, and Mr. Baldwin, on going off on a sleigh expedition ordered the crew toobey Mr Hart, the engineer. The mate and crew responded that this would be mutiny, as their contract was with Captain Johansson. Mr Baldwain replied by threatening them with punishment for mutinous conduct

On the return voyage on May 21, Mr. Baldwin notified Captain Johansson The Engineering and Moulding Shops in writing of his discharge, and the latare in proper working order, and can be tor thereupon requested the mate to take command. Captain Dreilick further informed the interviewer that on reaching Norway, Captain Johansson telegraphed to the agent of Mr Ziegler. 2037 the American gentleman who organised and equipped the Expediton, not to forward his money to Mr Baldwin, but to address it to the mate. Mr Baldwin, however, sent an express telegram as the result of which the sum of forty thousand crowns, deposited at Gothenurg for the Swedish crew, was duly remitted to him. The sleigh expedition , was within a day's march of the Duke of the Abruz zi's depot, but did not search for the dest sailors. In conclusion, Captain Dreilick ascribed the Expedition's failure to accomplish 1254 its end largely to internal dissensions.

THE PHILIPPINES.

Prespects Summed-up by British Vice-Consul.

Mr Sinclair, British Vice-Consul at Mapila, writes a very interesting report on the Philippines Islands. The following are his concluding remarks on the general situation :- To summarize, the Islands are pacified, but in an impoverished condition consequent on the events of the past years. Not only has there been great loss of life among the natives owing to war, rinderpest and a disease called 'surra' have reduced the supply of draught animals to such an extent that all cultivation is seriously hampered. Rice, the staple food of the Islands, has suffered most seriously, as not only has the actual amount planted been smaller than usual, but owing to drought the last year's erop was light. A land tax is now being inposed and collected by the Insular Government on the basis of 1 per cent. of the gross value for 1901, 13 per cent. for 1902, to rise to 2 per cent. in 1903. A very large amount of money has been put in circulation by the Government in payment for labour as well as by the large number of troops in the Islands. This has, however, mainly affected the labouring class, and the keepers of small stores and

The labourers, although their pay has more than doubled, do not work any harder, and recently in Manila resolved that they would not work during the hot bours of the day (nine h.m. to five p m. here). The apparent result of increased pay is a desire on the part of the native to work less days in the week. The introduction of Chinese labour, though favoured by the Insular Government, has been opposed by the home authorities. As far as the agricultural interests are concerned, the main requirements are personal security and capital for the purchase of machinery. With the exception of the construction of one or two roads, no steps have been taken to improve communications in the islands. The Government is inclined to leave the construction of railways, &c., to private individuals, who, however, do not appear inclined to invest in the Philippines under present conditions. Even in Manila a number of schemes for electric tramways between the widely distant ex-tremities of the city have fallen through, although there is a great need for them. A form of local government has been established giving considerable power to local headmen or presidentes, including the control of the local police and magisterial powers. The language difficulty may be solved when the labours of the 700 or 800 teachers (male and female), imported from the United States begin to hear fruit. At present Spanish forms the principal means of communication with the natives, only about 10 per cent of whom speak that

AS HAPPY AS A KING. This old saying, like a good many others, is founded upon ignorance, and therefore completely misleading. As a matter of fact kings have rather less of happiness than falls to the share of most private men. Take at random from history the lives of any fifty kings you will and compare them with the lives of any fifty private men, also taken at random, and I'll wager you my last sixpence you'll find the balance of bappiness inclines heavily to the private men. To be heralded by dram and trampet wherever you go, to be spoken of either in terms of the extremest adulation or of valgar abuse, and to serve as a target for the revolver practice of every crank who nurses a grievance, is not quite i the life a wise man would choose if his will had ! anything to do with the matter. 'I wish I were a king ' said Jones to his friend Brown; 'not what is now-a-days called a king, but a real king i'm as of old—one with authority to have a few people killed now and again when he felt like it.' 'You are neither a king or a man,' replied Brown, 'but an ass without ability to eat thistles.' Brown was right. Of all ambitions which sway mortal man, that which cost imperial Cresar his life-ambition to become a king-has least of wisdom in it, and only to be accounted for by monstrous, fallacy of suppresing that kings are, per se, happier than other men. These thoughts occur to us in considering the case of Mr William Highett, of 7, Elder Street, Adelaide, S.A., who, we were about to say, was as happy as a king until about three years ago. But that wouldn't be right. With his youthfulness, his health, strength and splendid physique, Mr Highest should have been, and doubtless was, bappier than any king who could be named. Mr Highett writes thus on the 10th of March, 1902 :- I am a native of South Australia, twenty-five years of age, and until three years ago, never knew what it was to be seriously iil. At that period I was engaged in bush work, right in the heart of the rough North-East District The work was extremely laborious, the food coarse, and the climate red hot. These conditions completely broke down my health. I grew weak and thin, continually felt out of sorts, and would get up in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed. There was a tight feeling, a distressing sense of oppression about the chest, and I was much troubled by flatulence, which frequently compelled me to rise from my bed and walk the floor for hours. I tried all sorts of pills and medicines for my complaint, but none of them did me any good. Finally I grew so weak that I had to give up my employment, having lest twenty-eight pounds in weight. I then went to Adelaide, and placed myself in the care of a first-class doctor, who said that my trouble was a bed form of indigestion; but though he treated me for a considerable time I gained no relief. It was at this crisis that a little book was left at the house which, fortunately examining, I found to be an almanae issued by the proprietors of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup. In this little work I read of the case of a person whose symptoms were very similar to mine, and who claimed to have been thoroughly cared by Mother Seigel's Curative Syrap. This fact determined me to try it, and I obtained a bottle without delay. A very few doses were sufficient to cause a great improvement in my condition, which encouraged me to persevere with it. the result being that in a few week I felt like a now man. I could cat heartily and enjoy my food, the flatulence disappeared, my sleep was sound and refreshing, and strength and cheerfulness returned to me. That was twelve months ago, and I have enjoyed the best of health ever since. I always keep a bottle of it by me, and take a dose from time to time, believing that proven-tion is better than cure."

SECOND EDITION.

STERLING SALARIES FOR HONGKONG OFFICIALS.

Mr Chamberlain's Despatches. The following despatches were laid before the Legislative Council on the 9th

Secretary of State to the Officer Administering the Government. Downing Street, June 13, 1902. Sir .- I have had under my consideration Sir Honry Blake's despatches of the 25th of October and the 11th of December last on the subject of the introduction of sterling salaries into the Government service of Hongkong. 2. In paragraph 3 of my despatch No. 426 of the 19th December Inst I informed Sir Henry Blake of my desire that the same principles should as far as possible be adopted in regard to the preparation of a storling scheme for future appointments to the Hongkong Government service as had heen already laid down in the case of the Straits Settlements. That despatch was crossed by Sir Henry Blake's despatch of the 11th December, in which he submitted a schemo of sterling salaries.

I have explained my views as to how far For the Assistant Government Marine Surservice before last August should be affect. the Harbour Master's Department, Laccopt ed by the introduction of the sterling the rates, which Sir H. Blake proposes. scheme. The decision at which I have arrived may be summed up by saying that suggested for the Headmaster of Queen's combonsation. I have followed the system adopted sterling, I must not be understood to exin the Eastern Colonies, by classifying se- press any opinion as to whether or not parately the appointments for which cadets | these positions should hereafter be filled by | i crements they at present enjoy are are eligible. This arrangement proved to officers selected from this country. No debe exceptionally difficult in the case of finite proposal to that effect has as yet been Hongkong, owing to the smallness of the submitted cadet service and the fact that there are very few appointments in the lower classes of the Government service, as classified by Sir H. Blake, which are usually held by cadets. I have, in fact, been compelled to abandon any attempt to arrange the andet posts into the same number of classes as in the Straits Sottlements; and I £30. gave, instead, divided them in o three classes, which are made to cover the same range of salaries as in the Straits Settlements by providing in each class more inrements and larger in amount.

8. I propose, in short, that the endet rvice shall be classified as follows ;-

£800 rising to £1,500 by two triennial noroments of £100 :- Colonial Treasurer Registrar General, First Magistrate, Capin Superintendent of Police. Class II.

£600 rising to £720 by three triennial norments of £40:- * Registrar of the Supreme Court, "Postmaster General, Inspector of Schools, " Second Magistrate, Assistant Colonial Secretary, Deputy Superintendent of Police.

Class III. £420 rising to £540 by three triennial nerements of £40 :- Assistant Registrar General, * Deputy Registrar and Accountant, * Deputy Registrar and Appraiser, * Secretary to the Sanitary Board, * Assistant Postmuster General, Assistant Superintendents of Police.

The appointments marked thus are not at present held by eadets, but should for the future be generally given to cadets if any are qualified for them.]

9. I am aware that the unjority of the posts in Class III have not, hitherto, been considered to belong to the endet service. They are, however, posts which cadets can fairly be called upon to occupy, and the duties of which they will in all probability be qualified to fulfil. On this point Sir-Henry Blake, whom I have had the advantage of consulting, is inclined to agree. In future, therefore, a vacancy is one of these posts should preferably be filled by the selection of a cadet, if a cadet can be found who is qualified to hold it. 10. The Director of Public Works should receive £1,000 rising to £1,200 per annum (triennial increments of £10). The rest high scientific attainments. of the Department might be graded as

Government House, Hongkong, 4th September, 1902, Sir,-I have the honour to acknowledge 13th June on the subject of the introduction of sterling salaries into the Government service of this Colony, and I forward herewith the enclosed copies of the sterling scheme which has been revised in accor dance with the instructions contained in

2. This scheme is now being promulgated in the Colony under cover of a Circular, copy of which is enclosed.

3. Copies of the Circular and of the schedule of sterling salaries and instructions enclosed are being sent to officers who are on leave of absence with a request that if they desire to join the scheme they will send their acceptances to the Crown Agents for the Colonies who will be communicated with at the same time and asked to pay such officers at the new rates. 4. With regard to the scheme itself have to make the following remarks :---

In the scheme of sterling salaries forwarded in Sir H. Blake's despatch of the 11th of December last the remark 'No quarters' was set against the Principal Civil Medical Officer and all the Assistant Surgeons in the Medical Department, although the Principal Civil Medical Officer and Dr Bell have quarters at the Government Civil Hospital and Dr Thomson draws house allowance of $720 per annum.

It appears that the reason was that it was intended that these officers when they came on the sterling basis should DAY rout for the quarters they enjoy. This principle has not, however, been adopted in this Colony.

5. In addition to the quarters occupied y Drs. Atkinson and Bell there will be when the Victoria Hospital for Women and | by more than ever the greatest prince Children is completed, a third set of quarters available attached to that Hospital. It will depend in the future, as it has in | portunity to become an implacable and the past, on the nature of the dutieswhether in immediate connection with one or other of these two hospitals or otherwise—that a Medical Officer is engaged on whether he will have free quarters allocated

6. I suggest therefore that the salaries as fixed by you be left as they stand, and that the quarters be regarded as available flirt who has not discovered that kissin for such officers as may be assigned to purely Hospital work. Dr Thomson who is in charge of the kissing the wrong one Gaol and has therefore to live close to that institution and his successors in office should continue to draw the house allow-near the Goal are provided. 7. In the case of the inspectors of Nuisances I have caused their salaries to be set down in the scheme at approximately the equivalents of their salaries in dollars with double exchange compensation, with their house allowances of $360 per annum thrown into salary at approximately 1s. 9d. large enough. The rates of increment have been altered from £10 to £5 a year in the

A note has been added that officers who occupy free quarters (as some of these men do, and as more of them bereafter may) will draw £32 a year less. 8. In the case of the Principal Warder, Victoria Gaol. I have made the £6 incremenus annual instead of triennial. With triennial increments it would take 18 years to reach the maximum.

9. I shall inform you in due course of the frontier created by the earlier one acceptances of the scheme.-I have, etc., W. J. GASCOTONE.

Revenue. In China, from immemorial To-day's Advertisements has filtered upwards, passing through the successive hands of prefects, taotais, provincial treasurers, and higher magnates, leaving an adequate portion necessarily adhering to the hands through which it has passed. Now, it seems an important part of the income claimed as of tacit right by subordinate salaries to a living wage is to come to them downward, not upward. Heads of departments, even in more enlightened lands, have not always shown themselves excessively anxious for the adequate remuneration of their subordinates. In the west, we can count on public opinion to counteract official niggardliness in such matters. In China, the local official helps himself. tax represents two dollars added to the ultimate selling price of the goods, and that real economies will result all round from its abolition. The merchant will pay less, the consumer will pay less, and the Chinese Government will obtain more after the cumbrous and annoying tax has gone. One main difficulty lies in the practical work of the change, which is to fall to the Ministry of Finance. The dangers are--first, the creation of a large and disorderly class of lower officials who will be deprived of perquisites and places; next, the hostility of intendants and prefects, who will not onit, when they find how much less the share allotted to them by the authorities is than the share they were able to retain when the money passed through their own hands, to lay the blame on the foreigner. It is among men of that class, not among the common people, that the proverbial hatred of the Chinese for the foreigner has its real growth and virulence. Thirdly, increase of facilities for the transport of imported goods must cause a dislocation of the local carrying trade on the rivers in much the same way as the extension of the introduction of steam launches flooded the Canton delta with pirates. All this can doubtless be overcome, and must be overcome for the sake of destroying an unbearable system of octrois, but, pace British hambers of Commerce, it is a matter for more effective interference than the signing of a treaty. Any guarantee that the central government can offer for the successful fulfilment of the scheme is worthless. Chinese rebellions are local in origin, and to make every river only possible with a really strong hand to grasp the nettle. Whose hand is this to be? China is too feeble, and we shall trade routes into the interior metaphorically swept and garnished, will it not some firm controlling power 1
